Chapter 24: The Home Base of the Apostles of God and Heavenly Soldiers

In the vast expanse of the Absolute Realm Universe, the Apostles of God and the (Silver) Heavenly Soldiers reside and serve as the Divine Triad's loyal forces. This universe, crafted by the combined wisdom and power of the Divine Triad, is a realm of unmatched grandeur, designed to house the multitudes of celestial beings who follow their commands.

The Absolute Realm Universe

The Absolute Realm Universe is a celestial dimension brimming with divine energy and filled with innumerable planets, each serving a specific purpose for the Divine Triad and their armies.

1. The Planet of Apostles

The Apostles of God, being among the most powerful and revered creations of the Divine Triad, are given a singular, majestic home base:

Divinus Exaltis:
A massive, radiant planet of pure light and celestial structures, Divinus Exaltis is the central hub for the Apostles of God.

The Sanctum of Light, a colossal temple of shimmering silver and gold, serves as their headquarters. It houses the Throne of Guidance, where the Divine Triad's directives are delivered.

The planet is surrounded by a protective sphere of primordial light, ensuring that no enemy can approach without being detected and destroyed.

The Apostles train in the Fields of Eternity, a sprawling expanse of divine terrain where they hone their combat and creation abilities.

2. The Planets of Heavenly Soldiers

The Heavenly Soldiers, numbering in the billions, are divided into legions. Each legion is assigned a specific base planet, ensuring their efficient organization and readiness.

Aurora Sanctum Planets:
The Heavenly Soldiers inhabit countless planets called the Aurora Sanctum Planets, each designed to support the needs of their vast numbers.

These planets are covered in glowing citadels, celestial barracks, and training grounds.

The Armory of Heaven is present on each planet, supplying them with divine weapons such as spears and one-edged swords.

Every planet has its own Portal Nexus, a gateway that allows soldiers to quickly deploy to other parts of the Absolute Realm or other universes.

Each planet is governed by a Heavenly General, often chosen from the ranks of the Apostles of God, ensuring seamless coordination between the soldiers and their superiors.

Hierarchy and Organization

The Apostles of God and the Heavenly Soldiers are organized in a strict hierarchy to maintain order and efficiency:

Apostles of God

Grand Apostles: The highest-ranking Apostles, who directly serve the Divine Triad. They lead the others in both battle and strategy.

High Apostles: Responsible for overseeing the training and discipline of the Heavenly Soldiers.

Commanding Apostles: Act as generals on the battlefield, leading the armies into war.

Heavenly Soldiers

Heavenly Generals: Lead legions of heavenly soldiers and coordinate large-scale operations.

Heavenly Captains: Command smaller units within the legions, ensuring discipline and strategy in battle.

Silver Guardians: Elite heavenly soldiers who act as the first line of defense for the Absolute Realm Universe.

Daily Life and Duties

1. Training and Preparation:

The Apostles and Heavenly Soldiers constantly train in combat, strategy, and divine energy manipulation to maintain their readiness.

The Apostles focus on refining their unique abilities granted by the Divine Triad, such as creation and destruction.

2. Patrolling and Guarding:

The Heavenly Soldiers patrol the Absolute Realm Universe, ensuring its safety and stability.

The Apostles oversee critical points, such as the gates to other universes.

3. Ceremonies and Rituals:

Weekly ceremonies are held to honor the Divine Triad and their creations, strengthening the bond of loyalty and purpose among the soldiers.

The Role of the Absolute Realm Universe

The Absolute Realm Universe is not only a base for the Apostles of God and the Heavenly Soldiers but also a testament to the Divine Triad's wisdom and power. It serves as:

1. A Fortress: The strongest base of operations in existence, protected by countless layers of divine energy and the loyal armies of the Divine Triad.

2. A Training Ground: A place for both Apostles and Heavenly Soldiers to grow stronger and maintain their combat readiness.

3. A Beacon of Hope: A shining example of the Divine Triad's greatness and a source of inspiration for their followers.

The Apostles of God and the Heavenly Soldiers remain steadfast in their dedication to the Divine Triad, prepared to face any challenge that threatens the Absolute Realm or the multiverse. Their combined strength and loyalty ensure that the Absolute Realm Universe remains impenetrable and ever-glorious.
